Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 30 May 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL.                      2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Carati et al. (US 2003/0083199).

Carati et al. discloses a method of making a catalyst in which TS-1 having a particle size of 0.3  $\mu\text{m}$  is spray dried. See paragraphs [0055], [0063] and [0065].

It is noted that the present claims refer “reducing the average diameter” of the TS-1 particles. This recitation is deemed to be met by the reference in the sense that the TS-1 is synthesized to have a particle size of less than 10 microns.

The recitations of instant claim 4 can be found in the reference in paragraph [0014].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 3, and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carati et al. (US 2003/0083190) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Sato et al. (JP 04-352771).

As noted above, Carati et al. discloses a method of making a catalyst which anticipates claim 1. The reference fails to disclose the epoxidation of olefins with the catalyst.

Sato et al. discloses that TS-1 zeolites containing palladium are useful for the epoxidation of olefins in the presence of hydrogen peroxide. See Claim 1 and practical example 1, page 6 of the translation of Sato et al.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have added palladium to the catalyst of Carati et al. and employed the catalyst in the epoxidation of olefins in the presence of hydrogen peroxide because Sato et al. discloses that TS-1 catalyst containing palladium are useful in such reactions.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
